Brand new to this edition is the inclusion of an author and title index. Adult and Children subject indexes are separated and include:

- Characters - Featuring both real and imaginary characters. From Bambi to James Bond, to Benjamin Franklin, - if a character or person appears in a work of US fiction for children or adults, you will be able to find it here.
- Settings - Looking for a title that takes place in Ireland? New York? Middle Earth? Browse more than 1,000 real and fictitious settings.
- Occupations - Showcase titles featuring occupations such as artist, fireman, lawyer and many others. Help children learn about future occupations!
- Ethnic Groups - Celebrate diversity! Spotlight titles for your community or introduce your patrons to something new.
- Historical Events - This section has expanded for the 2006-2007 edition. Now you can easily feature titles focusing on events of the past. Topics include the Civil War, frontier life and World War II.
- Relationships - Highlight titles about interpersonal relationships such as friendship, mothers and daughters and twins.

In the children's volume:

- Fantasy & Science Fiction - Dungeons, dragons, damsels in distress and more.
